

A-BOMB

AND

ME

Why I write this?

My youngest brother died after a couple of weeks the a-bomb hit on Hiroshima on August 6, 1945 with not a single injury in his body. At the very moment of his death, he grasped his mom's breast firmly and said, "When I go to Buddha's, I will ask Him to revenge America!" While on the other side, I nearly escaped from death even though I am crippled by polio. I have been thankful to America and its people for various means, which drive me to do something for the betterment of the two nations to say nothing for the atonement of deceased brother.

Yuuki Yoshida

A-BOMB

AND

ME

The Challenges and Opportunities of the interpretation of the a-bomb after the elapse of 65 years

Yuuki Yoshida

Publication Company

A-BOMB and ME

August 2011

All rights reserved.

Copyright © 2011 by Yuuki Yoshida

€ Writing records and others for writer's introduction